

Kiannaa Sadge

Consultant, Author, Speaker

Bio

Kiannaa Sadge is a consultant, strategist, and master of results who has been asking the “big” questions since childhood. Her approach is to link deep knowing of purpose with personal alignment to guide the world’s trailblazers in their pursuit of excellence.

Kiannaa’s core beliefs are rooted in the resonant power of compassion, the inspired growth of enthusiasm, and tying them into the personal experiences of trailblazers to develop big picture results. She helps them and their teams develop synchronicity in their business, teams, and life.

What People Are Saying

“Kiannaa Sadge sets the bar very high as one of the most talented Leadership and Team Development consultants in the industry. She has the innate ability to quickly evaluate and benchmark her client’s current state and develop actionable plans aimed at overcoming obstacles to achieve clear goals and facilitate measurable growth...I highly recommend Kiannaa’s services and look forward to working with her again in the future.” -Matt Strawn, Managing Director, Accenture Interactive

“Kiannaa Sadge is awesome! I have never met anyone with her integrity, zest for life, and willingness to help others. She is a high energy, creative, and action-oriented leader who teaches individuals and teams how to achieve meaningful results.” – John Robinson, Executive Director, SWRMC

“The skills that made me a successful Marine Sniper didn't translate well to the civilian working world of manufacturing. By working with Kiannaa, she helped me improve in areas that increased my capacity and made me a more effective leader. I also called upon Kiannaa later in my career to help navigate a team transition and work directly with one of my direct reports. Kiannaa's approach will have you look at situations and items not previously in your view. If you find yourself stuck in a mire that you’re unable to define, reach out to Kiannaa to help you help yourself.” -John Fuger, Donaldson Company, Director of Engine Plants
